

SIGNS OF CHANGE

Your imagination is needed!

The roads where you live are filled with signs telling drivers and bicyclists what to do. They look something like this:

We need YOU to design a new traffic sign to make a positive change in your community. You can use letters and pictures to make it look ANY WAY you want. It'll need to be bright and bold and easy to read from far away.

1. First, plan out whether you want people who see the sign to:

- a. laugh
- b. think
- c. slow down
- d. pay attention
- e. get hungry
- f. add your own idea: _____

2. Pick one of the sign shapes from the first page. Do you want a diamond, a rectangle, a triangle, or an octagon?

3. Pick three or four bright colors that will catch drivers' eyes.

4. Draw a picture. Some suggestions:

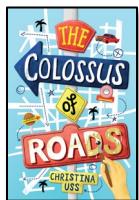

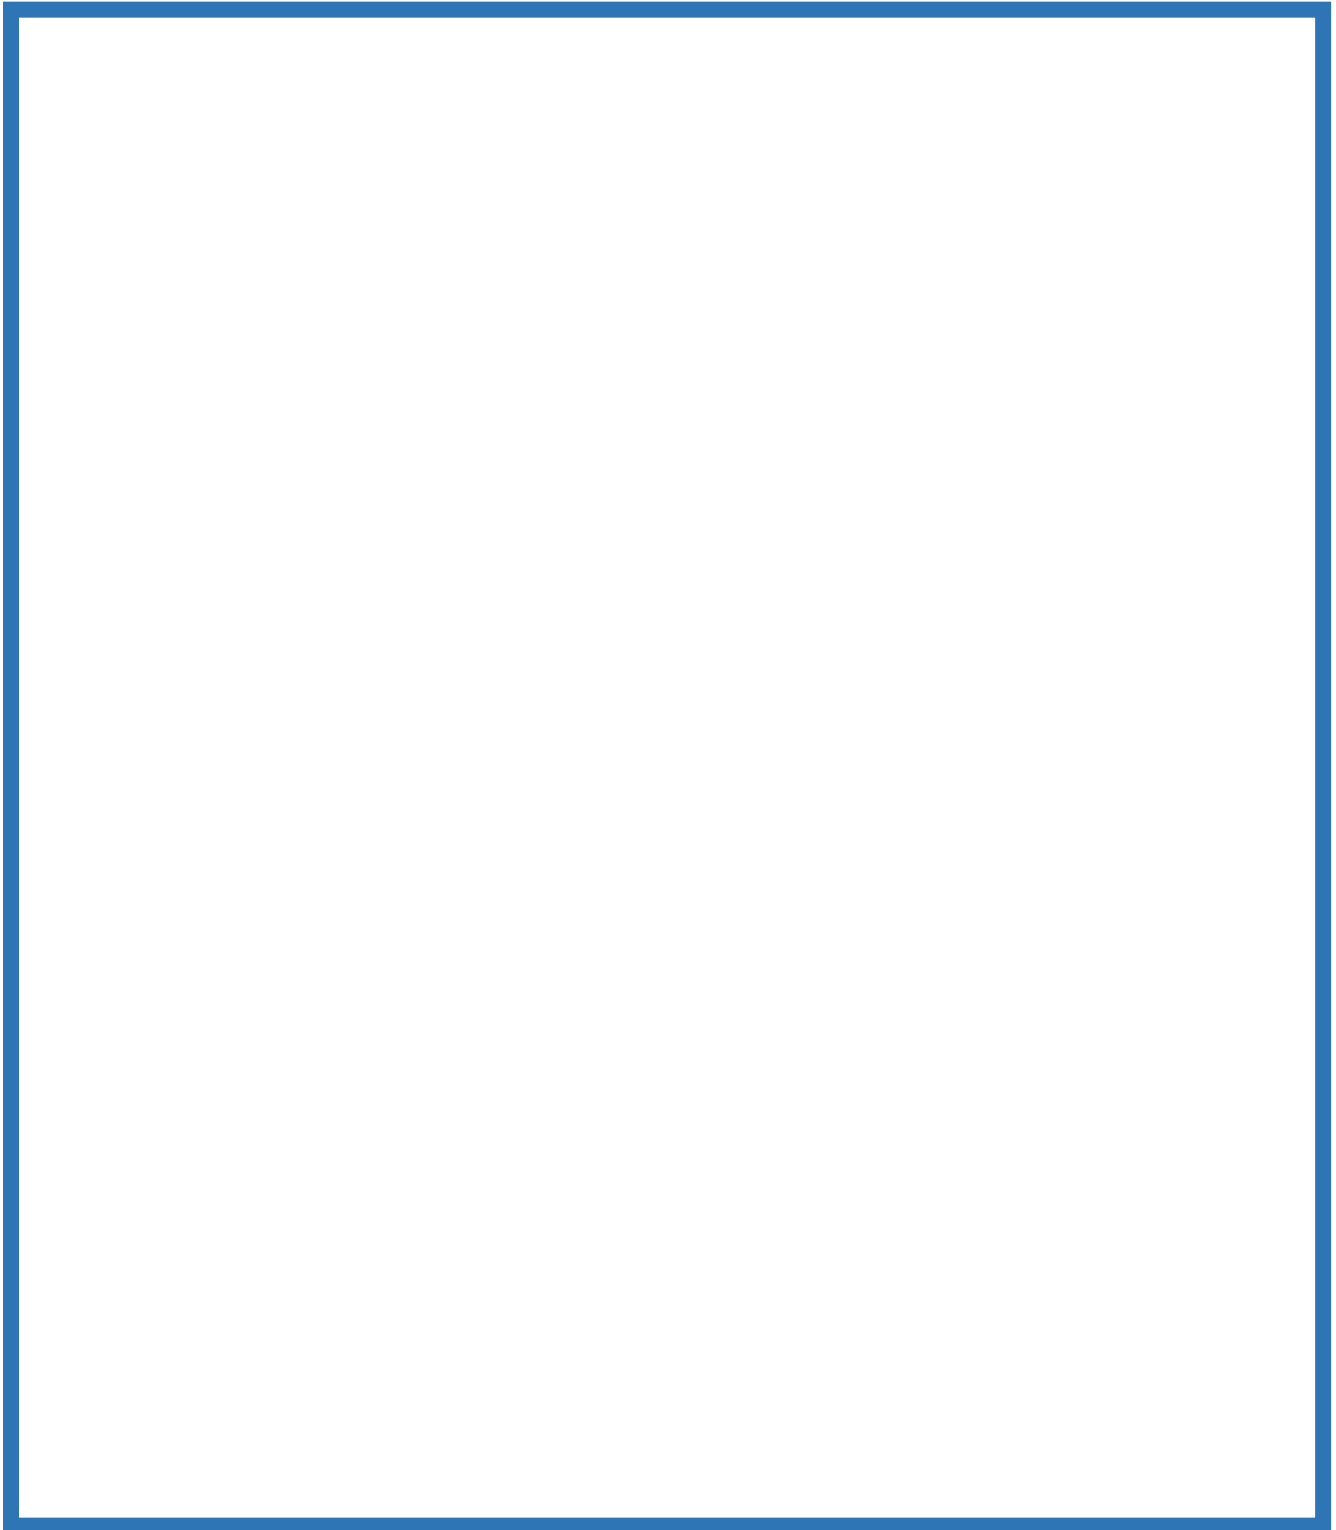

- a. Food (like cheeseburgers, doughnuts, tacos, or kielbasa)
- b. Mythical creatures (like unicorns, dragons, phoenixes, or mermaids)
- c. Outdoor scenes (like mountains, beaches, trees, or animals)
- d. Everything all together! (unicorns eating cheeseburgers on the beach?)

5. Add a few eye-catching words: STOP, GO, YES, SANDWICH, HOORAY, SPLAT, FLARGLE.
