

Spring 2023 General Publishing Intern / Paid, Part Time Holiday House Publishing / Pixel + Ink Publishing

Holiday House Publishing / Pixel + Ink are currently recruiting general interns for the Spring 2023 season, which will run from January 9th, 2023 to March 31st, 2023. We are seeking passionate, creative, and hardworking individuals who are hoping to pursue a career in publishing. This position will report to the marketing department. However, responsibilities and learning opportunities will span all departments including editorial, marketing and publicity, rights, and legal, providing the intern with a broad overview of the various roles within publishing.

Qualifications:

- Must be able to travel into the office (located in Manhattan). There will be a mix of remote and in-office work.
- Must have a reliable personal computer.
- Must be vaccinated.

This is a paid position ($15/hr), and interns will be expected to work up to 24 hours a week.

If interested in applying, please submit your resume and cover letter here.

This application will close December 9th, 2022.

Holiday House began in 1935 as the first American publishing house founded with the purpose of publishing only children's books. Our list includes the award-winning I Like to Read® series of picture books for emergent readers and the eponymous imprints of Margaret Ferguson Books and Neal Porter Books.

Holiday House and Pixel+Ink value and are actively seeing candidates with a diversity of talents and perspectives. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, national origin, religion, age, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, disability, or protected veteran status.
