ABOUT THE BOOK

Violet is ecstatic when she earns her own box of eighty-four crayons, but she can't seem to use them out of fear of ruining their perfection. With The Brand-New, Never-Used, Perfect Crayons, Leanne Hatch taps into the joy of sharing, creating, and letting go of perfectionism.

MEET THE CREATOR

LEANNE HATCH is the author and illustrator of Unraveled, a Junior Library Guild Gold Standard Selection, and the forthcoming Rosie and the Pre-Loved Dress. Her illustration portfolios have won an SCBWI Portfolio Showcase Award Grand Prize and two Honors. She was also the winner of the SCBWI Narrative Art Award and 1st Place Portfolio Award at the SCBWI Western Washington Conference. Leanne lives in Kirkland, Washington. REUSE CRAYONS

Now that you've used your crayons, make them new again!

Materials:

- Used wax crayons, wrappers removed
- Silicone ice cube trays or muffin tins sprayed with cooking spray

Directions:

1. Preheat the oven to 250 degrees (F).
2. After removing the labels or wrappers from your used crayons, break them into pieces. The smaller the pieces, the faster the crayons will melt.
3. Place the pieces into the ice trays or muffin tins. You can keep the colors the same, or mix the colors.
4. Place the ice tray or muffin tin onto a baking sheet. With the help of an adult, bake in the oven for 15-20 minutes, or until the crayons are completely melted. Carefully remove from the oven using a mitt or holder, making sure not to spill the hot wax.
5. Let cool on the counter or table until hard, or to speed up the process, place in the freezer for about 30 minutes to harden. When they're hard enough, pop them out of the trays.
